Concho Valley NPSOT Program notes for
Saturday, August 28, 2010. 10 AM
International Waterlily Collection, Civic League Park

The August meeting will be at Ken Landon's waterlily collection located at the Civic League Park where he will be giving us a private tour and talking about his water garden. I don't know how else to introduce Mr. Landon but to copy a paragraph from his webpage.

"The International Waterlily Collection has been designated by the International Waterlily & Water Gardening Society as a premiere collection of lilies in existence. This collection is the life work of one man with the mind of a scientist, the heart of a poet and the soul that embodies preserving waterlily heritage for the generations to come. His name is Ken Landon. Ken is only able to display about 1/2 of 1% of the collection each year so there is always something new and wondrous to see "

If you haven't visited his webpage I highly recommend doing so.

Immediately after the tour we will take care of chapter business and then head over to Jeanette's house for a pot luck lunch. Directions will be given at the meeting for those who have not been to her house.
